National Recovery Fund Receives Generous Donation from Cayman National

Cayman National donated a substantial sum of money to the Cayman Islands National Recovery Fund (NRF) this week. This is only one of the many ways in which the Group has contributed to the Fund.

"We are absolutely delighted that Cayman National has made such a generous contribution to the recovery effort," explains Dr Mark Laskin, Executive Director of the NRF. "It continues to show the strong support within the business community for the ongoing effort of getting all segments of Cayman's population back on their feet."

Dr Laskin feels that Cayman National has been one of the strongest supporters of the NRF since its inception: "Not only are they a corporate trustee, but they also handle all of the NRF's financial management. They've already been extremely generous in the time and effort its staff has volunteered and this financial donation is a welcome reminder of that strong continuing support."

"We are committed to do all we can to help with the recovery effort," says Cayman National President and Chief Executive Stuart Dack. "We are more than happy to donate funds as well as our time, skills and effort to ensure we continue to rebuild Cayman."

MORE

Cayman National's ongoing support has included major sponsorship of the '36 Hours in September' documentary and the Flowers 'Live Free' programme. Management and Staff have also volunteered their time and skills to help with many activities such as the Telethon, which raised two million dollars, as well as administrative tasks and the supply of office equipment.
