Cayman National Responds to Young Leader

Bethany Ebanks, a student at John Gray High School was nominated and accepted into the People to People Leadership Summit held in Log Angeles, California from 17 – 26 July.

The People to People Future Leaders Summit brings together students from around the globe to focus on leadership, team building, community service, college admissions, and professional aspirations. Bethany was accepted for the honor based on outstanding scholastic merit, civic involvement and leadership potential.

“Attending the People to People Leadership Summit was an unbelievable experience that I will always remember”, said Bethany Ebanks, “my most memorable moment was the orientation experience when students from all parts of the world gathered together. Being exposed to such a cross-section of cultures helped me to realize that I should never settle for just the possible, but rather make a difference with what seems impossible”. “I thank Cayman National for their financial support which made it possible for me to attend the Summit and was proud to represent my country at this event”, continued Ms. Ebanks.

According to Claudia Welds, Cayman National's Corporate Communications Senior Executive, the response to assist Bethany in attending the Leadership Summit attest to the organization's commitment to the development of leadership skills of our island's youth, and congratulate Bethany on being nominated. "Participation in such an event through workshops and other activities, student leaders attain a clear advantage as they pursue and fine-tune their selected fields of interests, and Cayman National is indeed pleased to be involved in this process", added Ms. Welds.
